

Scott Fry

Scott Fry is Director of Workforce Development for the MidAmerica Industrial Park in Pryor, Oklahoma. In this role he works with a variety of partners in serving the interests of MidAmerica companies ensuring that resources and programs are in place to support the development of a quality workforce. Previous to his current role with MidAmerica, Scott worked for OSU Institute of Technology for almost twenty years focused on customized training for business and industry. Thirteen of those years were spent overseeing the OSUIT operation at MidAmerica.

Scott also has experience in the glass manufacturing sector where he worked his way through college and as an Electronic Specialist after graduation. Scott Holds a B.S. in Electrical and Electronics Technology from Northeastern State University and a M.S. from Oklahoma State University in Occupational and Adult education.